Council Puts One-Mill Relief Levy On November Ballot

MAJORITY VOTE IS NEEDED TO APPROVE ISSUE

Approximately $12,000 Will Be Raised If Vote Is Favorable

MORE IS NEEDED, COUNCILMEN SAY

Expect State's "Matching Money" Will Make Up Deficit

City council met in special session last night, three days before the legal deadline, to pass a resolution declaring the necessity of a one mill tax levy for relief purposes in 1940.

The resolution, adopted on a motion by Councilmen Emmor H. Taylor and C. F. Zimmerman, will be certified today to the county board of elections to be placed on the ballots at the Nov. 7 general election.

A majority vote by Salem electors is necessary for passage of the levy, which, councilmen point out, will raise between $12,000 and $13,000 for relief needs during the year 1940.

The solons first talked of submitting a levy of one and one-half mills but later decided upon a one mill levy. Although they contend the one mill levy will not bring sufficient relief funds for the coming year, they believe state matching monies will make up the deficit.

The city's indigent case load at the present time is about 80, and councilmen, who administer relief activities, said:

"The resolution approved last night specified that the tax levy would be at the rate of one mill for each dollar of tax valuation, which amounts to 10 cents for each $100 of valuation within the city, in excess of the rate authorized by the state general code."

Three ordinances also were given approval by the solons at their brief session.

Salaries For Extra Firemen
One measure was for the appropriation of $1,000 to cover salaries of the two new firemen who are expected to be appointed to the department within a week. The ordinance provides pay for the balance of the year.

A second ordinance appropriated $1,000 as a new sponsor contribution for the WPA sidewalk project which, apparently, is popular with property owners in the city.

The home owners pay the cost of materials involved in laying the walks, while the WPA furnishes the material and labor. Applications are received at the engineer's office in city hall. Engineer F. S. Barkhoff has estimated that approximately 7,000 square feet of sidewalk is being laid.

A third ordinance appropriated $100 from the general fund to the post relief fund for relief care.

Nazi 'Suicide Corps' Drops In On Warsaw

BUDAPEST, Sept. 13.—A German "suicide corps," dropping silently from the skies by parachute, is making desperate efforts over a widespread territory to expedite the Nazi advance across Poland, it was reported here today.

Poles reported that several of the Germans, after being captured, revealed they had been assigned to discover the locations of Polish headquarters, air ports, war supplies, factories and warehouses, and to cut communication lines ahead of the advancing German columns.

The number captured indicated the Germans were introducing the technique on a wholesale basis far exceeding similar experimental efforts in the World war.

In each instance Polish soldiers and peasants rushed to seize the parachute jumper.

Confirmation of the parachute descents and the capture of the Germans was given by several foreigners.

The Warsaw radio broadcast a warning that scores of men were believed to have been dropped with parachutes and instructed townspeople and peasants to keep the closest watch, especially at night.

RICH IS GIVEN BALLOT PLACE

Election Board Rules Justice Is Legally A Candidate

The county board of elections, following an investigation of the reported non-residence of Justice of the Peace William G. Rich, Jr., of Perry township, today accepted his petition and ordered his name placed on the ballots for the Nov. 7 general election.

George Bricker, who charged that Rich had moved from the city and by reason of his non-residence, was not a legal candidate, failed to appear before the election board at a hearing this morning.

The board, however, it was explained by Clerk Frank R. O'Hanlon, thoroughly investigated the complaint and reported that there was no evidence to show that the justice of the peace was not a resident of the city.

On the other hand, O'Hanlon pointed out, state law provides that Rich, or any other candidate, could live elsewhere at a temporary residence as long as he intended to return to the city, and as long as the temporary residence did not exceed a period of three years.

Justice Rich, who is reported living along Route 14 in Mahoning county, listed his address as Rose ave., when he filed his petition of candidacy with the board of elections a week ago. His parents live on Rose ave.

Election board officials said Stouffer previously had ruled in favor of Rich when Bricker filed a protest. O'Hanlon said Bricker did not file any formal charges against Rich.

New Fair Records Looming If Weatherman Is Agreeable

Two "Big Days" of County Exhibition Get Under Way; Varied Displays Attract Attention

LISBON, Sept. 13.—With favorable weather, attendance records were expected to be shattered today as the two big days of the 94th annual fair got under way. The advance guard of the throngs began arriving soon after the gates swung open at 6 a. m., and although turnstiles had little letup during the forenoon, larger crowds were expected during the afternoon and evening.

While judging in many classes got under way Tuesday, the well filled exhibits in both exhibition halls were attracting much attention, especially in the school displays, which ranged from writings and drawings to remarkable pieces of furniture by industrial arts departments in the schools. Equally interesting were needlework, canned goods, and the grange exhibits.

Among the commercial exhibits by 16 farm implement dealers of the county was one modern streamlined tractor which is causing much comment. This iron horse of the farm is a low, sleek, racy looking piece of machinery on which the tread gauge may be set wide or narrow, and operates so noiselessly that it could be radio equipped.

ALLIES PLEDGE WAR TO FINISH ON HITLERISM

Sound Warning of Aerial Bombing If Fuehrer Breaks Pledge

PREMIER REVIEWS PROGRESS TO DATE

Lauds "Indomitable Spirit" of Poland's Defenders

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Great Britain's wartime parliament echoed today with solemn government assurances of unified French-British determination to end "once and for all" the pressure of Nazism.

A stern warning was given that Britain would not tie her hands on aerial bombing if Adolf Hitler breaks his pledge on that same score.

Prime Minister Chamberlain, spruce and confident after his first supreme war council on French soil, almost hissed the words as he told the House of Commons that both France and Britain would fight until they had banished "the intolerable strain of living under the perpetual threat of Nazi aggression."

Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax simultaneously told the House of Lords that Great Britain's pledges of restraint in bombing operations were based on conditions of similar restraint by Germany.

He said the British would "hold themselves completely free to take such action as they may deem appropriate" if Nazi planes are turned loose without discrimination on Polish civilians.

This statement was prompted by a German army announcement today which said the German army henceforth would "use all means at its disposal" to break Polish resistance in open towns and villages.

Intent members leaning forward eagerly from crowded benches heard Chamberlain's short account of his flying trip yesterday to meet Premier Daladier and General Gamelin for the first supreme war council "Somewhere in France."

Traditional approving cries of "hear! hear! hear!" echoed deeply as he made these points in reviewing military activities thus far:

1. Germany so far has directed most of her activities against Poland.

Dinner Enjoyed by Ladies' K-T Group

Forty-one members of the Ladies Knights Templar club attended a meeting at the Masonic temple last night. A coverdish dinner was served.

The meeting was the club's second since its organization. Plans for future meetings were discussed. Another coverdish dinner was scheduled for Oct. 10.

Arrangements were made to attend the annual convocation of the grand commandery of Ohio in Cleveland Wednesday, Sept. 20. Entertainment has been planned for the ladies who attend the convocation.

The county division of aid for the blind has a booth at the fair which is well worth visiting, to witness exhibitions of Braille reading, wicker and rug weaving as done by sightless persons.

Another of the many interesting exhibits on the grounds is the wildlife display sponsored by the sportsmen.

Entries in the dog show which did not close until 10 o'clock this morning indicated the best show in recent years. The poultry show is also declared the best in years, by both visitors and those in charge.

The race program of the afternoon has 19 horses scheduled in the three events and some very fine racing is assured.

Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert was scheduled to speak briefly this afternoon. Charles J. Grey of Painesville, president of the Ohio Fair Managers' association, who visited the fair and Secretary H. E. Marsden on Tuesday, declared it one of the best fairs in Ohio. He particularly stresses the beauty of the grounds.

Dr. And Mrs. Holzbach In New York After Running German Sub Gantlet

Tell of Blackouts, terrible Tenselessness On Way Across

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Two Ohioans who arrived today on the British liner Cameronia said "tenselessness" among the passengers was "terrible" during the voyage from Europe.

"This morning was the first time we've seen any miles on the ship," said Dr. P. T. Holzbach of Salem, O., who returned with his wife.

"We sighted no submarines coming over but the blackouts every night were the worst part of the trip," he said. "Parents kept their children up all night and others refused to take their clothes off. The crew was very excited, too, and many of them were afraid to go back."

"We left Glasgow Sept. 5 with a convoy of destroyers but after a few hours we went our own way," said Dr. Holzbach. "The Cameronia was white when we left but was painted gray during the voyage."

Unable to cash travelers' checks, Dr. Holzbach arrived with only 25 cents in his pocket.

Reports reached America that the Ohio couple had boarded the ill-fated liner Atheria after their passage was cancelled on the Caledonia, which sailed Sept. 1.

This was because the Atheria was the next ship to leave from Scotland with Americans.

"But we never planned to take the Atheria," Dr. Holzbach said. "We booked on the Cameronia, the second ship after the Caledonia."

Dr. Holzbach said a three weeks' surgery course he was taking at the University of Edinburgh was interrupted when the war closed the institution. Students were mobilized and patients at the hospital were sent to rural areas.

Enclosed with the letter was a verification of a previous report that Dr. and Mrs. Holzbach were aboard the Cameronia was received yesterday by Dr. John P. Sharp in an official government telegram from the state department in Washington. The telegram reads:

"Red Cross advises Dr. and Mrs. Holzbach now passengers on Cameronia. Expect to reach Salem Sept. 13 or 14."

Dr. Sharp appealed to a friend in the state department for assistance in locating the Salem couple after his efforts to contact Dr. and Mrs. Holzbach or learn their whereabouts through European sources failed.

A direct communication from Dr. Holzbach was received yesterday by Miss Francis Markovich, city health nurse, in an air mail letter written Sept. 4 and mailed in Glasgow Sept. 5 the day the Cameronia was scheduled to sail for the United States.

Enclosed with the letter was a separate envelope with instructions that it be opened only in the event that Dr. and Mrs. Holzbach fail to reach home safely.

Outlook "Not Too Bright"

The letter says: "We are leaving Glasgow Sept. 5, tomorrow, and are going to run the submarine blockade. The outlook is not too bright, but I don't think it is any worse than staying here and taking chances on bombing and gas attacks, which will surely come, and what is worse—food rationing."

"I am enclosing a separate envelope to be opened if and when Nelly and I don't come through."

"I am not positively concerned about it, but you never can tell. Just a precaution."

Written on the face of the separate envelope is the instruction: "To be opened only in case of my sudden decease." The word "only" is underlined and the statement is signed "R. T. Holzbach."

Business Pulse Quickening In Ohio And In The Nation

Factory, Railroad Employment Gains; Pittsburgh Steel Offices Estimate Jobs for 125,000 More Men

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Sept. 13.—Ohio's business pulse is quickening. Seasonal industrial improvement and war orders from Europe have increased factory and railroad employment. A state-wide survey showed today. Gains ranged as high as 100 per cent.

The pickup was reflected in reductions in poor relief and WPA rolls, and welfare officials were quick to predict further betterment.

Some Cleveland tool-making plants attributed their gains largely to orders from abroad, the Automatic Machine Co. having doubled its force producing tools used in manufacturing airplane parts.

Both the Warner and Swasey and National Acme plants there were operating 24 hours a day, the latter reporting 1,800 employed, 300 above normal.

Metal Trades Up
Metal trades firms in Cincinnati and Columbus also reported employment increases, although the gains were not traced to the war.

Domestic orders have advanced employment in Youngstown district steel mills 12 to 15 per cent above last year while in Canton Timken Roller Bearing Co. officials listed operations at 70 per cent of capacity, an advance in recent weeks from a summer low of 35 per cent.

Operations at Republic Steel Corp. units in Canton and Massillon have climbed from a similar low to 65 per cent of capacity while the firm's Cleveland plant reported operating at 90 per cent of capacity.

The Carnegie Illinois concern's plant at Mingo Junction, previously slated for abandonment, has resumed work.

Cut Is Only Injury As Cars Hit Head-On

A cut lip was the only injury resulting from a read-on collision on the Georgetown road, one-half mile south of Salem, at 7:25 p. m. Tuesday.

The cars, which crashed on a curve, were driven by C. D. Buckner, 39, of R. D. 1, Salem, and Floyd O. Coleman, 50, of Paris. Coleman suffered the cut lip.

In another accident, Robert Strobel, 21, of Ellwood City, Pa., escaped unhurt when his machine skidded on wet pavement into the rear of a stalled truck on Route 224, one mile east of Canfield, at 2 p. m. yesterday. The truck was owned by Charles Johnson, 61, of Youngstown.

Winners are Listed In Lisbon Events

The lightweight horse-pulling contest at the fairgrounds this morning was won by the team of Don McKerns of Kensington, which pulled the 5,500-pound loaded sled a distance of 144 feet.

The team of Harry Dillon of near Lisbon was second, pulling a 2,970-pound sled 115 feet. The team of Lewis McBride of East Rochester was third, pulling 2,840 pounds 34 feet. Six other entries were eliminated.

ALL GIRL ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT AND EVERY NIGHT THE WINIFRED McDONNELL TRIO, THREE GIRLS FROM THE GOLDEN WEST WHO CAN REALLY ENTERTAIN YOU. SILVER COCKTAIL ROOM METZGER HOTEL

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13.—A visit to offices of the leading steel producers here today showed executives almost dizzy with the sudden rush of domestic orders which many predicted would result in calling back to the mills as many as 125,000 workers before Thanksgiving.

A steady stream of telegrams from branch offices and manufacturers of virtually every commodity from coat hangers to locomotives poured in, telephones jangled, boys trotted in and out with memoranda.

Consumers' Rush
"Consumers," explained a perspiring official, "are putting on the same panicky rush housewives did last week for sugar and flour. If it continues, and we believe it will, the industry will boost its output to 85 or 90 per cent of capacity within 30 or 60 days."

"That will mean as many as 125,000 additional workers will be needed and full time for those now working."

His figure was taken from the fact that mills, operating at around 63 per cent last week, were employing 455,000 workers with a monthly payroll of $50,000,000. Two years ago with production averaging between 80 and 90 per cent the industry's monthly payroll was $80,000,000 for 872,000 workers.

This spokesman and representatives of two other producers joined in saying they were having to limit tonnage to a basis comparable to past performances. Consumers who have been buying 1,000 tons a quarter are having to slash their order.

All agreed that the price angle had a significant bearing, since those directing policies of steel

BRITISH TROOPS GO INTO ACTION

Battle Alongside French Soldiers On Western Front

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, Sept. 13.—British troops were reported in French military dispatches this afternoon to have entered action with the French against the Germans on the western front for the first time in the 1939 European war.

French advisers said a "great number of well-equipped British troops are participating in combat."

This news was displayed prominently by Paris evening newspapers.

Creation of a Polish army in France was under way with recruiting offices opened throughout the country to receive Polish volunteers.

French infantrymen were reported in dispatches reaching Paris as continuing to edge forward in German territory toward the Siegfried line at several points along a 100-mile front between the Rhine and Moselle rivers.

Fliers Clash, Big Guns Boom
While rival fliers clashed in the air and the big guns of both sides pounded enemy territory, military advisers said French forces east of Saarbrücken had made a "substantial" advance.

Fleet French tanks and armored cars earlier were reported to have reached the outskirts of Saarbrücken, railroad junction and industrial heart of the rich Saar basin, yesterday and to have thrust immediately into the suburbs.

Following this morning's war ministry communiqué which announced "great activity" yesterday by the air forces of both sides, French reports said sky skirmishes were continuing today.

These reports said three German planes were brought down while the French suffered "very small losses."

Bands, Floats To Feature Festival Parade Saturday

High School Musicians First In Line of March; Complete Parade Route Is Announced

(By Associated Press)

Gaily decorated floats and marching bands will be features of the Fall Festival parade through downtown Salem Saturday afternoon.

The Salem High school band, making its first formal public appearance this season, will lead the parade, followed by the Columbus High school band. Two, and possibly three other musical aggregations, also are expected in the lineup.

The Girl Scouts of the city today entered a float in the parade, together with entries from the Andalusia Dairy and the Salona Supply Co. Many more floats are expected to be registered before the parade Friday morning. Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, secretary of the Business Bureau, said:

Cash prizes totaling $255 await winners in the float contest. Endres-Gross, Bloomberg's, Isaly and the Salem China Co. also are preparing floats.

Floats may be entered in three divisions: Industrial and commercial, rural and local organizations. Three prizes will be given in each division—First, $50; second, $25; third, $10.

The parade will form on E. Pershing st., on the lot adjacent to Rolly stadium, at 1:30 p. m. Saturday. It is scheduled to move at 2:00 p. m.

1:45. The line of march, according to Marshal L. R. Cobbs, and Wilbur Coy, chairman of the parade committee, will be:

West on Pershing st., to S. Lincoln ave., north on S. Lincoln ave., to E. State st., west on State st., to Ellsworth ave., then north on E. Ellsworth to Fourth st., east on E. Fourth st., to N. Broadway, south on Broadway and across State st., to E. Pershing, then east on Pershing to Rolly stadium.

There the floats will be parked for inspection.

The festival proper will open Friday night, with the American Legion, co-sponsors of the event, staging their usual attractions on S. Broadway. The street between E. Pershing and Columbia streets will be roped off for the occasion.

Free aerial and high pedestal acts by a man who calls himself "Suicide Zorsky" will be offered afternoon and evening Friday and Saturday at the Legion street scene.

Many persons also are expected to come downtown Friday and Saturday to view store windows. Charles H. Carey post of the Legion has offered prizes of $10, $7.50 and $5 to merchants who have the most attractive and outstanding displays.

Special Session Ordered

Roosevelt Issues Proclamation Convening Lawmakers

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—President Roosevelt today called congress to meet in special session at noon Sept. 21.

Although his proclamation made no mention of the neutrality act, the President already had stated informally he would seek repeal of the arms embargo clause and try to confine the session to that action.

At the same time he signed the proclamation convening congress, the President sent telegrams to a group of Democratic and Republican leaders in both senate and house asking them to meet him the afternoon of Sept. 20 for an informal conference at the White House.

Proclamation

The proclamation convening congress follows:

"Whereas public interests require that the congress of the United States should be convened in extra session at 12 o'clock noon, on Thursday, the 21st day of September, 1939, to receive such communication as may be made by the executive;

"Now, therefore, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the congress of the United States to convene in extra session at the Capitol in the City of Washington, on Thursday, the 21st day of September, 1939, at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members thereof are hereby required to take notice."

Telegrams Sent

The telegrams inviting leaders to the White House conference the day before the session starts went to Vice President Garner at Ovada, Tex.; House Speaker Bankhead; Senator Barkley, Democratic leader; Senator McNary, Republican leader; Senator Minton, assistant Democratic leader; Senator Austin, assistant Republican leader; Senator Pittman, the Democratic chairman of the foreign relations committee; Senator Byrnes, (D-SC); Representative Rayburn, (D-TX); Representative Martin, house Republican leader.

The President advised these leaders that after a careful study of the whole situation he had decided to call a special session.

Employment Boost Helps to Keep Down County Relief Load

LISBON, Sept. 13.—Very slight change is anticipated in the relief load of Columbiana county by Relief Director John W. Orr, who states that WPA layoffs of last month, which are now eligible for relief, are being offset by increased employment in private industry. The relief load as of Sept. 1 in the county relief area was 870 cases or 2,226 persons and no appreciable increase is anticipated.

The greatest influence of the return to private industry is expected to be felt in the cities where many factories report increased orders and have employed additional men.

H. A. Moore, WPA certifying agent, on Tuesday received an appeal from the United States employment service at Salem, advising that employment is available for 100 persons at picking beans on the McKeefer farms near Leetonia, with work up until Sept. 21.

The matter of the labor shortage in this instance was passed on by Relief Director Orr to the trustees in Salem township, where the farms are located and where the relief load is particularly heavy.

Making Check

LISBON, Sept. 13.—Louis Lavine and O. H. Bedell, representatives of the Federal social security board, are at the court house here making a routine advisory check of the divisions of aid for the blind, and aid for dependent children. They expect to complete their work here this week and will then check the books of Jefferson county at Steubenville.

ACCIDENT—DON'T STOP

Michigan has a traffic regulation we like. It forbids motorists from parking on any rural highway within 500 feet of the scene of an accident at which a police officer is on duty.

Humanity demands that passersby arriving at the scene of an accident stop and offer assistance if they can be of help. After the officers arrive and take charge there is no need for the presence of others and when they stop they create another serious traffic hazard. Many additional traffic accidents have been caused because cars were parked close to the scene of an earlier mishap.

Good judgment dictates that the motorist stop if he reaches a crash in time to be of real help but that he keep moving if he comes along after the officers have the situation in hand.

MORE TREES IN DANGER

Natural enemies are again attacking the trees of the midwest and nature lovers as well as those to whom the forests represent a valuable economic asset are alarmed. Desperate efforts of the U. S. forestry service have been unavailing, largely because of the difficulties involved in spraying forest trees with protective solutions.

Chestnut trees were wiped out several years ago by a blight which covered Ohio hillsides with the stark, dead trunks of giant trees which once delighted children with their tasty nuts and this year the buckeyes, horse chestnuts and black locusts have been attacked. It is too early to tell whether the blight will prove fatal but the prospects are alarming.

Government agencies are aware of the danger and hard at work in the effort to combat it but the apparent futility of individual resistance is just another evidence of the relentlessness of nature when her attitude toward puny humanity is unfavorable.

ENIGMA OF THE EAST

A minor enigma of the war which has been overlooked in more important developments along the Rhine and the Vistula is the part which Turkey may play if the conflict spreads through the Balkans.

In the last World War, Turkey reluctantly became an ally of the Central powers. Although torn by anarchy and dissension and beset by its Arab population, Turkey, nevertheless, gave invaluable aid to the German cause by its successful defense of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus against the heaviest assaults of the British navy.

These straits guard the backdoor to Bulgaria, Rumania and Russia. If conflict envelops eastern Europe they will again become of major importance and with Turkey apparently lined up on the side of England instead of against her, Turkey may again become an important factor.

Taking the long view ahead, Turkey seems more likely to gain by a victory of the anti-Hitler alliance than any of the other warring countries. Brutally dismembered after the last war, ravaged by massacre and overrun by enemies who violated even the severe terms imposed by the armistice, she is in a position to demand and receive great concessions if she makes the Black Sea an English domain during the war now starting.

PROFIT WITHOUT GLORY

It is without any sense of gratification that America begins to take stock of the profits which have come to this country as a result of war. Dollars paid for in blood are not pleasant ones to receive.

Outbreak of conflict does, however, bring to this country a favorable financial balance. Crop prices have risen until the farm income runs far ahead of all estimates and the federal government will be saved from an estimated loss of $119,000,000 on crop loans to farmers.

Sharp advance in commodities has sent prices to the point where the farmers can pay off their loans and sell their crops at a profit.

Industrial workers are receiving equal benefits. The U. S. employment service estimates that employment throughout the country will be boosted by 1,000,000 workers and payrolls everywhere are soaring to the highest marks recorded in several years.

The American people will have more money, temporarily at least, because Europe is at war but nobody is happy about it. To some it brings concern because those who are not in a position to share in the upturn of employment and prices will be pinched by the inevitable rise in the cost of foodstuffs and other necessities already apparent in the market quotations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Daugherty of Albany are the parents of a son born Wednesday morning.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, September 14

THE LUNAR transits for this day forecast very lively conditions, both in business and in purely personal association. Matters should move with definite progress and achievement, although there are omens of possible mistakes to be made in undertaking changes, removals or journeys without due consideration and justification. There are also financial hazards, with extravagance and indulgence, and hints of legal entanglements.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a lively year, in which both business and private affairs will be greatly accelerated. The danger is in making unwise moves in connection with travel, removal or deals with strangers. Finances may be imperiled by these false moves, or by extravagant outlay or indulgence, perhaps to the point of legal complications.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Poles still hold Warsaw. Those five words tell one of the epics of war-history. At the end of six days of bitter fighting beneath a deluge of shattering steel, the Poles still hold their capital although it is largely encircled by a ring of German bayonets.

One often refers to a man of unlimited courage in combat as a "fighting fool." It is a complimentary term.

The Poles are "Fighting Fools," and always have been. The sturdy women-folk have in many places been helping out their men in battle. And even the small hands of children have been building barricades and digging trenches for fathers and brothers.

This defense of Warsaw represents a section of the big stand which the Poles finally are making through the heart of Poland, at the end of their planned retreat from the German border. They are fighting against time—hanging on to give their Anglo-French allies a chance to take action which will relieve the awful pressure of that vast German war-machine.

A bit more and Poland may get help from nature. Come the fall rains and many of the roads will become bogs. Now the country highways are reported deep in dust.

Only a miracle can save Warsaw from capture, of course, but every day of delay is good for Poland.

The desperate battle continues just north of Lodz, 60 miles west of Warsaw, where the Germans have surrounded 50 or 60 thousand Poles. It looks like surrender or death for the defenders.

And now for the mystery-front in the western theatre of war. A dozen times a day one is asked whether the Anglo-French forces really are making a serious drive against the Germans.

Sure they are. But don't forget that the Nazi Siegfried line can't be popped open like a peanut. It takes time.

This great line of underground fortifications is, apart from the French Maginot line, the strongest bulwark of its kind ever devised. Not only is it theoretically almost impregnable, but it is further protected by a no-man's-land several miles deep and filled with pill-boxes, machine-gun nests, mines, barbed-wire—and every other obstructive device.

It might easily cost the lives of a quarter million French and British soldiers to breach the Siegfried line in one place.

Still, the allies are said to be getting ready for just such a bloody job. That's the meaning of the French drives into the no-man's-land between the lines in the region of Germany's rich Saar mining fields.

ance are using the new provision which makes it possible to pay premiums by an advance from future AAA payments," he said.

More than 150 Columbiana county wheat growers have already made application for 1940 crop insurance. This is an increase to date of 100 policyholders over 1939.

"This is only our second year for a wheat crop insurance program," the chairman declared, "but farmers, not only in Ohio, but throughout the winter wheat belt, have taken this program as a means of insuring farm income. Wheat crop insurance covers losses against winterkill, Hessian fly infestation, flood, drought, hail, fire and other natural hazards."

"Approximately 1,500 Ohio farmers who had crop insurance in 1939 received more than 100,000 bushels of wheat as indemnities for losses on the 1939 wheat crop. The chairman predicted that Ohio will show an increase of approximately 300 percent in policyholders over 1939. Last year we had 10,244 insurance policies in effect. This year the total figure is expected to exceed 35,000 wheat crop insurance premiums for the state."

MIDNIGHT

Is No Time to Be Without Dependable Indigestion Relief

Nor is it wise to be without relief day or night. So many things cause stomach distress. Nervousness, hurry, poor teeth, bad food, etc. But though upset come from many causes there is one dependable, easy way to bring relief from the distress when your stomach pours out too much fluid and makes you feel sour and sick all over. Just take a few little black tablets called Bell-ans for indigestion. Relief comes so fast you can't believe it.

Because you see, Bell-ans helps the stomach digest food, makes the excess stomach fluid harmless and lets you eat the nourishing foods you need. For your family's sake put Bell-ans in the cabinet now. Painful distress, heartburn and upset go like magic and one 75c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans.

Drugs Must Do Everthing They Claim, Under New Law

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

FROM NOW ON, if you buy a solution that says it will kill germs, it must kill germs. And if you buy a mouth wash or a nose spray that kills germs "in two minutes," it must do that (or it must have an inhibitory effect on prolonged contact). So says Uncle Sam's new Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Law, which also makes several improvements over the old law in respect to labeling drugs.

It requires that the active ingredients must be declared on the label, as well as the proportion or quantity of certain potent drugs.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

For instance, your fat reducer, which is "harmless," must show on the label whether it contains thyroid extract or dinitrophenol, and how much.

Omission of a material fact makes a label false. Labels must even declare the existence, if any, of a difference of opinion among qualified scientists.

Appear on Label

Certain drugs must appear on the label, whether active in the mixture or not: bromides, acetanilid, phenacetin, amidopyrine, atropine, mercury, thyroid, hyoscine or hyocyanine.

Warnings against probable misuse must also appear. The law enjoins the statement, "Warning—may be habit-forming," when certain drugs are in the container, including tetracycline acid (veronal), cannibis, chloral, cocaine, codeine, morphine, marihuana, paraldehyde, peyote (mescal).

Of course, most of these drugs cannot be sold without a doctor's prescription. In many but not all, states the barbiturates cannot be sold. But vendors often have a way of getting around this. An asthma spray may contain cocaine. The asthma victim writes in for a bottle of the "cure." A doctor employed by the firm writes a prescription and the medicine is sent out.

The enforcement proceedings of the new bill strengthen the government's hand mightily. Under the old law, the government could seize products that were adulterated, fraudulently labeled or filthy—but not because they were dangerous.

Had to Prove Intent. There was a joker in the old law that stated that the government had to prove that false claims to curative effect were made by the manufacturer with wilful intent. It is very difficult to prove what a quack's intent is.

Now, if a common weed is sold as a "cure" for diabetes, or some salts as a slenderizer, it can be stopped without bothering about the mental processes the vendor

Cosmetics which are dangerous can be banned. This part of the law has been in effect for a year. Eighty-one shipments of poisonous cosmetics have been seized, 30 of which involved an eyelash dye which has caused blindness. The manufacturers were prosecuted, convicted and fined in 23 counts involving fines of $100 each, but the court announced that on payment of $250 the judgment would be satisfied.

I understand that the Ohio woman who was blinded by eyelash dye has spent over $10,000 on hospital expenses. The doctors, I am proud to say, have never charged her anything.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. G. G.: "Do the American Indians, Eskimoes or uncivilized people of Africa have peritonitis?" Answer—Yes, they have peritonitis from appendicitis. They do not have the other common form of peritonitis because these uncivilized savages have not yet learned to do abortions in order to terminate pregnancy.

CHAPTER XXIX

Harriet rang for her butler, and ordered him to bring her an abominable frappe. At that psychological moment, in walked none other than Teddy LeStrange.

She needed a man at this crisis. Not that poor Teddy — rel-like grater—was particularly virile, or a staff to lean on. But at least he was a male!

Teddy partook of the same strong stimulant as his hostess. She began to sound him as to his opinions of the belle Marquise....

"Something phoney about her," said the always agreeable Teddy, who had a woman's faculty of sensing one's more felicitous moods, and suitably replying. "That ancestry stuff's bunk."

"Just what I myself have been thinking," said Harriet, well pleased. "Did it ever strike you, Teddy, that that nice boy, Brock Milbank, has been better acquainted with her in the past, than he admits?"

"You're a wiz, Harriet," said the admiring Teddy, downing a second drink. He recounted to her the be-ludged remarks of Brock on their first meeting, when he had claimed that he and Toni would have had a "home of their own".... if it hadn't been for "that son-of-a-sea-cook Jessica," as Brock had gracefully put it!

"Jessica," said Harriet shrewdly, "was the Chicago heiress who married him in California. Did it ever strike you, Teddy, that Antonette may have originated from the same part? Didn't you ever notice that when she's excited, or has had more than two cocktails in a row, she has a very slight western accent?"

"Aren't you clever? You should have been a detective." "This isn't the time for being funny. You know I've spent a great deal of money in the Chateau de la Marquis. It was I who introduced Antonette socially. I feel a responsibility to my friends," Harriet said virtuously.

Now Teddy, despite his vacuous appearance and manner, was no fool where women were concerned. He had acquired too many of the darlings not to know their weaknesses, and he was perfectly cognizant of Harriet's jealousy towards the singer.... and the reasons thereof.

But now he gave no slightest sign. Assuming an air of concerned attention, he waited for Harriet to let off further steam. Apparently, however, she had said her say, for the time being.

He accepted her invitation to dine. And after the excellent meal was over, she took him to the theater.

"Now for supper somewhere," said the generous hostess, as they emerged from the Belasco. "Whither shall we away?"

"The usual spot? The Chateau?" he suggested.

"No I'm tired of it. Let's go to the New Gallic Casino."

He was surprised. The Broadway haunt was certainly entertaining, but minus the necessary "class."

He had no knowledge there was method in Harriet's madness. She intended to summon Cassie Doyle to her table, and pump her, tactfully, about her acquaintanceship with lovely Antonette!

Waiters, knowing the rich, lavish Harriet of old, gave her a table close to the stage, where she and Teddy partook heartily of supper, with champagne, of course.

After the finish of Cassie's appearance in her dance-scene, Miss Brewster unbent so far as to scribble her a note. Cassie had already seen the lady out front and, in her own pert fashion, had nodded and smiled at her from the chorus.

"I want you to be nice, Teddy, to a charming, hard-working little girl. You know I'm interested in dancers. I may do things for her." Cassie Doyle arrived. A subdued, overawed Cassie, who knew Harriet Brewster for a "swell," and was correspondingly a little afraid of her.

But the heiress was all graciousness. She presented Teddy, Cassie summed him up as a "good guy." He liked the ladies. Was a man-about-town. Easy to get along with.

Presently Cassie was enjoying a delicious supper of caviar, lobster a la Newberg, and champagne. The kind Miss Brewster was drawing her out about her ambition, praising her dancing, assuring her she would go far in her profession.

This was balm—nectar and ambrosia!—to Cassie, who had suffered many humiliating speeches from her Herman recently, as to her lack of progress on the boards. Herman, being at a dead end in money-making, plus in trouble with the police (which Toni's gift of a hundred dollars had only temporarily assuaged) was making things hard for his lady-love who could contribute little to his projects.

"Your dance with the other girls in the last act is perfectly charming," Miss Brewster was assuring her as they sat at supper in the auditorium. "I can't think why they don't put you on alone!"

"Mr. Gusheim would," said Cassie eagerly and indiscreetly, "if it weren't for Herman!"

"And who is Herman?" with gracious condescension, and a semi-amused smile.

"My boy-friend," said Cassie naively. "You know, you go a lot further in these shows if you aren't mean?"

Teddy shot his hostess an amused glance.

She must have a motive in suffering this child! He wondered what it could be.

"I was thinking," said Harriet dreamily, "of backing one of the new shows. A musical comedy to be put on at the Shubert—or the Center. I forget which. Now what was its name?"

"Not 'Kiss Me Awake' breathed little Cassie.

"Why yes, that was just it! And there are going to be some very good dancing parts, I understand."

"Oh, Miss Brewster—if you could only get me a pull with the management, I'd do anything in the world for you! It would be the most marvelous favor! Y'see, dancing's my specialty!" cried Cassie.

"You did so very well tonight. I might speak to Mr. Sholz. I don't see why he wouldn't give you a chance. They don't pay you much here, do they? Now if you had a couple of solo appearances in the musical comedy, it ought to be worth a hundred a week, oughtn't it?" said the temptress.

Cassie thought ecstatically: "A hundred a week! Wouldn't Herman's eyes fairly pop out of his head?"

Why Herman might even marry her! There were no limits to the delightful possibilities!

"You'd do this for me? You're an angel!" exclaimed Cassie, leaning across the table and squeezing her hostess' hand in a grip that was surprisingly strong for one so small.

Miss Brewster felt herself a real benefactor. She was glad that Teddy saw her in the role of aid-to-poor-working-girl, for he would tell it around town.

Glad, too, that Cassie responded readily, without fearing any catch. She was a simple, primitive child who loved her Herman. Hadn't Miss Brewster an excellent knowledge of many Hermans—though in a somewhat higher social setting?

When the stage lights were dimmed for a particular scene, and the eyes of her two guests glued on the performance, Harriet adroitly poured a stiff lacing of brandy into Cassie's glass of champagne.

"That will loosen her tongue. I'll find out just what I want." So thought the heiress. Everything was fair in love and war!

Wedding Bells

LOS ANGELES—When a cafe offered $50 for a public wedding, 22-year-old Greeba Webb accepted the proposal of a stranger for what she thought was to be a mock marriage. Now she wants it annulled.

The cafe insisted on a marriage license, so the stranger, Kenneth Webb, 23-year-old truck driver, got one.

The girl's father heard about it and called the deal off, but she charges in her annulment suit that Webb forced her to go to a minister's house, gripping her wrist so hard she said "yes."

ACCIDENT—DON'T STOP

Michigan has a traffic regulation we like. It forbids motorists from parking on any rural highway within 500 feet of the scene of an accident at which a police officer is on duty.

Humanity demands that passersby arriving at the scene of an accident stop and offer assistance if they can be of help. After the officers arrive and take charge there is no need for the presence of others and when they stop they create another serious traffic hazard. Many additional traffic accidents have been caused because cars were parked close to the scene of an earlier mishap.

Good judgment dictates that the motorist stop if he reaches a crash in time to be of real help but that he keep moving if he comes along after the officers have the situation in hand.

MORE TREES IN DANGER

Natural enemies are again attacking the trees of the midwest and nature lovers as well as those to whom the forests represent a valuable economic asset are alarmed. Desperate efforts of the U. S. forestry service have been unavailing, largely because of the difficulties involved in spraying forest trees with protective solutions.

Chestnut trees were wiped out several years ago by a blight which covered Ohio hillsides with the stark, dead trunks of giant trees which once delighted children with their tasty nuts and this year the buckeyes, horse chestnuts and alack locusts have been attacked. It is too early to tell whether the blight will prove fatal but the prospects are alarming.

Government agencies are aware of the danger and hard at work in the effort to combat it but the apparent futility of individual resistance is just another evidence of the relentlessness of nature when her attitude toward puny humanity is unfavorable.

ENIGMA OF THE EAST

A minor enigma of the war which has been overlooked in more important developments along the Rhine and the Vistula is the part which Turkey may play if the conflict spreads through the Balkans.

In the last World war, Turkey reluctantly became an ally of the Central powers. Although torn by anarchy and dissection and beset by its Arab population, Turkey, nevertheless, gave invaluable aid to the German cause by its successful defense of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus against the heaviest assaults of the British navy.

These straits guard the backdoor to Bulgaria, Rumania and Russia. If conflict envelops eastern Europe they will again become of major importance and with Turkey apparently lined up on the side of England instead of against her, Turkey may again become an important factor.

Taking the long view ahead, Turkey seems more likely to gain by a victory of the anti-Hitler alliance than any of the other warring countries. Brutally dismembered after the last war, ravaged by massacre and overrun by enemies who violated even the severe terms imposed by the armistice, she is in a position to demand and receive great concessions if she makes the Black Sea an English domain during the war now starting.

PROFIT WITHOUT GLORY

It is without any sense of gratification that America begins to take stock of the profits which have come to this country as a result of war. Dollars paid for in blood are not pleasant ones to receive.

Outbreak of conflict does, however, bring to this country a favorable financial balance. Crop prices have risen until the farm income runs far ahead of all estimates and the federal government will be saved from an estimated loss of $119,000,000 on crop loans to farmers.

Sharp advance in commodities has sent prices to the point where the farmers can pay off their loans and sell their crops at a profit.

Industrial workers are receiving equal benefits. The U. S. employment service estimates that employment throughout the country will be boosted by 1,000,000 workers and payrolls everywhere are soaring to the highest marks recorded in several years.

The American people will have more money, temporarily at least, because Europe is at war but nobody is happy about it. To some it brings concern because those who are not in a position to share in the upturn of employment and prices will be pinched by the inevitable rise in the cost of foodstuffs and other necessities already apparent in the market quotations.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, September 14

THE LUNAR transits for this day forecast very lively conditions, both in business and in purely personal association. Matters should move with definite progress and achievement, although there are omens of possible mistakes to be made in undertaking changes, removals or journeys without due consideration and justification. There are also financial hazards, with extravagance and indulgence, and hints of legal entanglements.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a lively year, in which both business and private affairs will be greatly accelerated. The danger is in making unwise moves in connection with travel, removal or deals with strangers. Finances may be imperiled by these false moves, or by extravagant outlay or indulgence, perhaps to the point of legal complications.

A child born on this day, while being active, energetic and ambitious, may be restless, fond of change and adventure, and keen in the pursuit of pleasure. It should be friendly, popular and fond of the "good things" of life.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Poles still hold Warsaw. Those five words tell one of the epics of war-history. At the end of six days of bitter fighting beneath a deluge of shattering steel, the Poles still hold their capital although it is largely encircled by a ring of German bayonets.

One often refers to a man of unlimited courage in combat as a "fighting fool." It is a complimentary term.

The Poles are "Fighting Fools," and always have been. The sturdy women-folk have in many places been helping out their men in battle. And even the small hands of children have been building barricades and digging trenches for fathers and brothers.

This defense of Warsaw represents a section of the big stand which the Poles finally are making through the heart of Poland, at the end of their planned retreat from the German border. They are fighting against time—hanging on to give their Anglo-French allies a chance to take action which will relieve the awful pressure of that vast German war-machine.

A bit more and Poland may get help from nature. Come the fall rains and many of the roads will become bogs. Now the country highways are reported deep in dust.

Only a miracle can save Warsaw from capture, of course, but every day of delay is good for Poland. The desperate battle continues just north of Lodz, 60 miles west of Warsaw, where the Germans have surrounded 50 or 60 thousand Poles. It looks like surrender or death for the defenders.

And now for the mystery-front in the western theatre of war. A dozen times a day one is asked whether the Anglo-French forces really are making a serious drive against the Germans.

Sure they are. But don't forget that the Nazi Siegfried line can't be popped open like a peanut. It takes time.

This great line of underground fortifications is, apart from the French Maginot line, the strongest bulwark of its kind ever devised. Not only is it theoretically almost impregnable, but it is further protected by a no-man's-land several miles deep and filled with pill-boxes, machine-gun nests, mines, barbed-wire—and every other obstructive device.

It might easily cost the lives of a quarter million French and British soldiers to breach the Siegfried line in one place.

Still, the allies are said to be getting ready for just such a bloody job. That's the meaning of the French drives into the no-man's land between the lines in the region of Germany's rich Saar mining fields.

CROP INSURANCE DEADLINE NEAR

Only Eight Days Left In Which County Farmers May Apply

With only eight days remaining for Columbiana county farmers to apply for wheat crop insurance under the agricultural conservation program, Chairman J. Glenn States of the Columbiana County AAA office today urged farmers to obtain wheat crop insurance before seeding their 1940 wheat crop. The deadline has been set for Sept. 20.

"Winter wheat growers who want to insure their crop should remember that they must apply for insurance and pay the premium before their crop is seeded this fall. Approximately 90 percent of farmers applying for wheat crop insurance are using the new provision which makes it possible to pay premiums by an advance from future AAA payments," he said.

More than 150 Columbiana county wheat growers have already made application for 1940 crop insurance. This is an increase to date of 100 policyholders over 1939.

"This is only our second year for a wheat crop insurance program," the chairman declared, "but farmers, not only in Ohio, but throughout the winter wheat belt, have taken this program as a means of insuring farm income. Wheat crop insurance covers losses against winterkill, Hessian fly infestation, flood, drought, hail, fire and other natural hazards."

"Approximately 1,500 Ohio farmers who had crop insurance in 1939 received more than 100,000 bushels of wheat as indemnities for losses on the 1939 wheat crop. The chairman predicted that Ohio will show an increase of approximately 300 percent in policyholders over 1939. Last year we had 10,244 insurance policies in effect. This year the total figure is expected to exceed 35,000 wheat crop insurance premiums for one state."

MIDNIGHT

Is No Time to be Without Dependable Indigestion Relief

Not is it wise to be without relief day or night. So many things cause stomach distress. Nervousness, hurry, poor teeth, bad food, etc. But though upset by many causes, there is one dependable, easy way to bring relief from the distress when your stomach sears out too much acid and makes you feel sour and sick all over. Just take a few little black tablets called Bell-sure for indigestion. Relief comes so fast you can't believe it.

Drugs Must Do Everthing They Claim, Under New Law

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

FROM NOW ON, if you buy a solution that says it will kill germs, it must kill germs. And if you buy a mouth wash or a nose spray that kills germs "in two minutes," it must do that (or it must have an inhibitory effect on prolonged contact). So says Uncle Sam's new Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Law, which also makes several improvements over the old law in respect to labeling drugs.

It requires that the active ingredients must be declared on the label, as well as the proportion or quantity of certain potent drugs.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

For instance, your fat reducer, which is "harmless," must show on the label whether it contains thyroid extract or diminophenol, and how much.

Omission of a material fact makes a label false. Labels must even declare the existence, if any, of a difference of opinion among qualified scientists.

Appear on Label

Certain drugs must appear on the label, whether active in the mixture or not: bromides, atropine, mercury, thyroid, hyoscine or hyocyanine.

Warnings against probable misuse must also appear. The law enjoins the statement, "Warning—may be habit-forming," when certain drugs are in the container, including salicylic acid (veronal), cannabis, chloral, cocaine, codeine, morphine, marijuana, paraldehyde, peyote (mescal).

Of course, most of these drugs cannot be sold without a doctor's prescription. In many, but not all, states the barbiturates cannot be sold. But vendors often have a way of getting around this. An asthma spray may contain cocaine. The asthma victim writes in for a bottle of the "cure." A doctor employed by the firm writes a prescription and the medicine is sent out.

The enforcement proceedings of the new bill strengthen the government's hand mightily. Under the old law, the government could seize products that were adulterated, fraudulently labeled or filthy—but not because they were dangerous.

Had to Prove Intent There was a joker in the old law that stated that the government had to prove that false claims to curative effect were made by the manufacturer with wilful intent. It is very difficult to prove what a quack's intent is.

Now, if a common weed is sold as a "cure" for diabetes, or some salt as a slenderizer, it can be stopped without bothering about the mental processes the vendors can be banned. This part of the law has been in effect for a year. Eighty-one shipments of poisonous cosmetics have been seized, 30 of which involved an eyelash dye which has caused blindness. The manufacturers were prosecuted, convicted and fined in 23 counts involving fines of $100 each, but the court announced that on payment of $250 the judgment would be satisfied.

I understand that the Ohio woman who was blinded by eyelash dye has spent over $10,000 on hospital expenses. The doctors, I am proud to say, have never charged her anything.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. G. G.: "Do the American Indians, Esquimaux or uncivilized people of Africa have peritonitis?" Answer—Yes, they have peritonitis from appendicitis. They do not have the other common form of peritonitis because these uncivilized savages have not yet learned to do abortions in order to terminate pregnancy.

CHAPTER XXIX

Harriet rang for her butler, and ordered him to bring her an abominable frappe. At that psychological moment, in walked none other than Teddy LeStrange.

"She needed a man at this crisis. Not that poor Teddy — a real grifter — was particularly virile, or a staff to lean on. But at least he was a male!"

Teddy partook of the same strong stimulant as his hostess. She began to sound him as to his opinions of the belle Marquise....

"Something phoney about her," said the always agreeable Teddy, who had a woman's faculty of sensing one's more felicitous moods, and suitably responding. "That ancestry stuff's bunk."

"Just what I myself have been thinking," said Harriet, well pleased. "Did it ever strike you, Teddy, that that nice boy, Brock Milbank, has been better acquainted with her in the past, than he admits?"

"You're a wiz, Harriet," said the admiring Teddy, downing a second drink. He recounted to her the bearded remarks of Brock on their first meeting, when he had claimed that he and Toni would have had a "home of their own".... if it hadn't been for "that son-of-a-sea-cook Jessica," as Brock had gracefully put it!

"Jessica," said Harriet shrewdly, was the Chicago heiress who married him in California. Did it ever strike you, Teddy, that Antonette may have originated from the same part? Didn't you ever notice that when she's excited, or has had more than two cocktails in a row, she has a very slight western accent?"

"Aren't you clever? You should have been a detective."

"This isn't the time for being funny. You know I've spent a great deal of money in the Chateau de la Marquis. It was I who introduced Antonette socially. I feel a responsibility to my friends," Harriet said seriously.

Now Teddy, despite his vacuous appearance and manner, was no fool where women were concerned. He had squirmed too many of the darlings not to know their weaknesses, and he was perfectly cognizant of Harriet's jealousy towards the singer.... and the reasons thereof.

But now he gave no slightest sign. Assuming an air of concerned attention, he waited for Harriet to let off further steam. Apparently, however, she had said her say, for the time being.

He accepted her invitation to dine. And after the excellent meal was over, she took him to the theater.

"Now for supper somewhere," said the generous hostess, as they emerged from the Belasco. "Whither shall we away?"

"The usual spot? The Chateau?" he suggested.

"No! I'm tired of it. Let's go to the New Gallic Casino."

He was surprised. The Broadway haunt was certainly entertaining, but minus the necessary "stiff."

He had no knowledge there was method in Harriet's madness. She intended to summon Cassie Doyle to her table, and pump her, tactfully, about her acquaintanceship with lovely Antonette!

Waiters, knowing the rich, lavish Harriet of old, gave her a table close to the stage, where she and Teddy partook heartily of supper, with champagne, of course.

After the finish of Cassie's appearance in her dance-scene, Miss Brewster unbent so far as to scribble her a note. Cassie had already seen the lady out from and, in her own pert fashion, had nodded and smiled at her from the chorus.

"I want you to be nice, Teddy, to a charming, hard-working little girl. You know I'm interested in dancers. I may do things for her."

Cassie Doyle arrived. A subdued, overawed Cassie, who knew Harriet Brewster for a "swell," and was correspondingly a little afraid of her.

But the heiress was all graciousness. She presented Teddy, Cassie summed him up as a "good guy." He liked the ladies. Was a man, about-town. Easy to get along with.

Presently Cassie was enjoying a delicious supper of caviar, lobster a la Newberg, and champagne. The kind Miss Brewster was drawing her out about her ambition, praising her dancing, assuring her she would go far in her profession.

"This was balmy—nay, nectar and ambrosia—to Cassie, who had suffered many humiliating speeches from her Herman recently, as to her lack of progress on the boards. Herman, being at a dead end in money-making, plus in trouble with the police (which Toni's gift of a hundred dollars had only temporarily assuaged) was making things hard for his lady-love who could contribute little to his projects.

"Your dance with the other girls in the last act is perfectly charming," Miss Brewster was assuring her as they sat at supper in the auditorium. "I can't think why they don't put you on alone!"

"Mr. Gusheim would," said Cassie eagerly and indiscreetly, "if it weren't for Herman!"

"And who is Herman?" with gracious condescension, and a semi-amused smile.

"My boy-friend," said Cassie naively. "You know, you go a lot further in these shows if you aren't mean?"

Teddy shot his hostess an amused glance.

She must have a motive in suffering this child! He wondered what it could be?

"I was thinking," said Harriet dreamily, "of backing one of the new shows. A musical comedy to be put on at the Shubert—or the Center. I forget which. Now what was his name?"

"Not 'Kiss Me Awake'?" breathed little Cassie.

"Why yes, that was just it! And there are going to be some very good dancing parts, I understand."

"Oh, Miss Brewster—if you could only get me a pull with the management, I'd do anything in the world for you! It would be the most marvelous favor! Y'see, dancing's my specialty!" cried Cassie.

"You did so very well tonight. I might speak to Mr. Sholz. I don't see why he wouldn't give you a chance. They don't pay you much here, do they? Now if you had a couple of solo appearances in the musical comedy, it ought to be worth a hundred a week, oughtn't it?" said the temptress.

Cassie thought ecstatically: "A hundred a week! Wouldn't Herman's eyes fairly pop out of his head?"

Why Herman might, even marry her! There were no limits to the delightful possibilities!

"You'd do this for me? You're an angel!" exclaimed Cassie, leaning across the table and squeezing her hostess's hand in a grip that was surprisingly strong for one so small.

Miss Brewster felt herself a real benefactor. She was glad that Teddy saw her in the role of aid-to-poor-working-girl, for he would tell it around town.

Glad, too, that Cassie responded readily, without fearing any catch. She was a simple, primitive child who loved her Herman. Hadn't Miss Brewster an excellent knowledge of many Hermans—though in a somewhat higher social setting?

When the stage lights were dimmed for a particular scene, and the eyes of her two guests glued on the performance, Harriet adroitly poured a stiff lacing of brandy into Cassie's glass of champagne.

"That will loosen her tongue. I'll find out just what I want." So thought the heiress. Everything was laid in love and war!

Cassie's hand seized the "laced" champagne glass. Cassie drank deeply. The results mounted.

Watching her keenly, the other timed her moment.

"Your friend, the Marquise in the Chateau, has certainly gone a long way, has she not?"

Now little Cassie was no fool. She trusted few people. Hard experience had taught her to be skeptical. And she was really fond of Toni Goddard, who had done her that favor about the needed cash that had saved Herman from jail, however temporarily!

"Antonette," said Cassie guardedly, "is a darned clever girl."

"Do drink up your champagne. I'll order another bottle. Somehow tonight I feel like celebrating. I want to do a good deed—like a girl scout, Miss Doyle, you understand! You know, often I have these impulses!" Miss Brewster smiled at her in her most charming manner.

Cassie's hopes about the new job mounted.

"I can't think why you're being so nice to me—" she began.

"Oh, I'm interested in Art. Often I think I myself could have made a success on the boards. Lacking time," said Miss Brewster expansively, "I can take out my suppressed talent—" she laughed gaily — "by helping others."

"You mean you do think you may be able to land me a bit in 'Kiss Me Awake'?"

"Most certainly I can, if I speak to Mr. Sholz. He's asked me to put money in the show. I could make your getting a nice part a condition of the arrangement."

Cassie finished her champagne with its strong dash of brandy.

"Perhaps your friend the Marquise might like a bit in the comedy, too?"

"Toni, you mean? Why, she can't dance! Besides, she's sitting mighty pretty where she is!" Cassie said naively.

"But it would mean more money for her?"

"Money? Bah! You've seen her gorgeous flat. Niklas is being marvelous to that girl. You don't want to get up against Niklas. He's too powerful!"

City Hospital Graduates Honored At Dinner Party

The six graduates of Salem City Hospital Nurses Training school, who will receive their diplomas in commencement exercises at 8 p. m. Friday in the Elks home, last night attended the opening event of the week's activities, the annual Junior-Senior class dinner at Overlook Inn on the Youngstown-Cantfield rd.

Members of the two classes had as guests at the dinner Mrs. R. B. Kernohan, chairman of the training school committee of the board of trustees, Miss Esther Wilson, superintendent of Salem City hospital, and Miss Mary Louise Tracy, instructress of nurses.

Auxiliary Leader Is Re-elected

Mrs. Golda L. Burnbaugh was re-elected president of the American Legion auxiliary at a meeting in the Legion home last night.

Other officers who will be installed next month are: First vice president, Mrs. Russell Burns; second vice president Mrs. B. C. Crapster; secretary, Mrs. Virgil Rakestraw; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Smith; chaplain, Mrs. Glen Switzer; historian, Mrs. C. C. Miller; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Alton Byr; trustees, Mrs. Alice Byr, Mrs. Betty Barber and Mrs. Ray Cuthbert.

Appointive officers will be named by the president at the October meeting.

Plans were discussed for a benefit Saturday and for the fall festival to be held here this weekend.

Mrs. Burnbaugh and Mrs. Crapster, who attended the annual state convention of the auxiliary in Akron last month, presented reports of the sessions.

Bingo was played after the meeting and lunch was served.

The auxiliary will meet again Sept. 26.

Progressive Mothers Open New Season

The new social and study season was opened by the Progressive Mothers circle last night at the home of Mrs. Michael Schuller, president, on Newgreen ave.

A social committee appointed by the president includes Mrs. A. W. Lieder, Mrs. Gladys Jewell, Mrs. Ernest Horton and Mrs. Lee Wachsmith.

Plans for the year's program will feature several special meetings. Dr. Paul Bennett of Alliance will be speaker at the meeting Sept. 26. His subject will be "Social Diseases."

Mothers and mothers-in-law of the circle members will be entertained at the May 28 meeting and the annual picnic will be held next Aug. 14 at Firestone park. The original date, as announced in the program books, was Aug. 13.

The subject for study was "Shall Children Have a Better Background?" with Mrs. Horton in charge.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lester Lehman, on North Union ave., with Mrs. Lowell Brown as chairman.

Elizabeth Frye Class Is Entertained

Members of the Elizabeth Frye class of the First Friends church, taught by Mrs. Ward Allen, were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. L. McCluggage, West Eighth st.

Mrs. Scott Warner, class president, and Mrs. Raymond Roher led the devotionals.

After the business session, an informal social hour was enjoyed, featuring music.

Lunch was served by the associate hostesses, Mrs. McCluggage, Miss Laura Coulson, Mrs. H. P. Mitchell, and Mrs. Roher.

The Elizabeth Frye class and the Men's Bible class of the church will have a coverdish dinner at 6:30 p. m. Friday at Firestone park, Columbiana.

The next regular meeting of the Elizabeth Frye class will be held Oct. 10. The place will be announced at a later date.

Relief Corps Marks Anniversaries

Trecott post No. 34, Women's Relief corps, celebrated the anniversaries of 12 members at a quarterly birthday dinner in the K. of P. hall on Tuesday afternoon.

Following a coverdish dinner, quilting and a social hour were enjoyed. Three tables of "500" were also in play.

During the business session, plans were made to attend the annual convention of District 14 of the Women's Relief corps at East Palestine on Oct. 6.

The corps will meet again on Sept. 26 in the K. of P. hall.

Mrs. John Rafferty Bridge Hostess

Bridge club associates enjoyed a dinner last evening at the Spanish Tavern, going later to the home of Mrs. John Rafferty on East Third st., for cards.

Mrs. Lloyd Tobusch was a guest of the club. Prizes were awarded during the evening to Miss Grace McCrea, Mrs. Cessna Mackintosh and Mrs. Robusch.

The meeting Sept. 26 will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Middeker on South Union ave.

Theatre Attractions

Charles Boyer and Irene Dunne, highly successful romantic team of "Love Affair," are co-starred in "When Tomorrow Comes," which shows Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State.

While not quite another "Love Affair," which startled studio executives and producers off their chairs with its spectacular success, "When Tomorrow Comes" nevertheless is first class entertainment. Creditable performances are turned in by the stars but they are completely eclipsed by the brilliant acting of Barbara O'Neil in the role of Boyer's mentally unsound wife.

Miss O'Neil, who was seen as the mother in "Stella Dallas," recently appeared here in "The Sun Never Sets" with Earl Rathbone. A long list of fine stage performances have counted for little in her Hollywood career until now, when her work compels the attention of audiences and producers alike.

The Cast
Others in the cast are Onslow Stevens, Nydia Westman, Fritz Feld and Nella Walker. John M. Stahl, who is to be remembered as the director of such outstanding hits as "Seed," "Back Street," "Magnificent Obsession" and "Only Yesterday," piloted the cast of "When Tomorrow Comes."

The story links Boyer, as a famous French pianist, with Miss Dunne, a waitress. They meet and fall in love, but their affair is complicated by Boyer's wife from whom he cannot get a divorce because her mind is unbalanced. French courts refuse to recognize insanity as grounds for divorce. Their brief happiness together is interrupted by a hurricane in which they are caught. The solution is a three-party love affair is provided by the storm.

Concluding tonight at the Grand are: Sigrid Gurie in "The Forgotten Woman" and Tommy Ryan and Bruce Cabot in "Mickey the Kid."

"Miracles for Sale," with Robert Young and Florence Rice, a mystery tale of a magician who undertakes to solve the murder of a colleague will be seen at the State for the last times tonight.

Clever Signal-Caller Is Needed For Quakers' Backfield

LACK VETERANS FOR IMPORTANT VARSITY POSTS

Schroeder Has Only One Experienced Back On Quakers' Squad

Developing a clever back to bark the signals and handle the ball is one of the most important tasks facing Coach Carl Schroeder as he prepares his Salem High school football team for its opening game of the 1939 season against Sebring at Kelly stadium Friday night, Sept. 22.

The Quakers appear to have weight, power and aggressiveness, along with a splendid spirit, but the need for a smart field general has been apparent since the start of pre-season practice Aug. 21.

Considers Several

Schroeder still has more than a week of practice in which to produce a reliable field general before the opening game. He has several players under consideration, but, to date, none of them has been definitely selected for the important position.

The search for a clever signal-barker and ball-handler has been handicapped to a large extent by the fact that among the candidates for backfield positions there is only one player with any amount of experience. He is Marvin (Buster) Wukotich, veteran fullback and leading ground-gainer and scorer in Columbiana county last season. Wukotich will undoubtedly be the mainstay of the Quakers' backfield again this year, but the signal-calling duties will probably fall to someone else.

Carroll Green, who won his letter as a guard last year, has been switched to the backfield in pre-season practices, working at the blocking back position, but it is not certain whether he will be kept in the backfield.

May Play Both

Green is one of the few players on the squad who is quick and fast enough to pull out of the line and run interference for the backs without stalling a play. For this reason he may be returned to the line as a guard. It is possible that he may alternate as a back and guard.

With Wukotich and Green out of consideration, the signal-calling duties will probably fall to a newcomer. It is not necessary for Schroeder to name a back as signal-barker, but it is highly improbable that he will select a lineman for the job.

Prominent among the newcomers bidding for backfield positions are Johnny Yello, Don West, Bob Scullion, Joe Janovec, Al Pich and Jim Nocera.

Despite a lack of veterans, the backfield this year is expected to be more versatile than it was last season. Any combination Schroeder places on the field this fall will have four capable ball-carriers, a good passer and a fair punter. Last year, Schroeder's most reliable backfield included only three good ball-carriers and no consistently good passers.

Schroeder is grooming Wukotich and Yello for the passing assignment, while the punting duties will probably fall to either Wukotich, Janovec or Green.

Providing he escapes injury, Wukotich is certain to be the regular fullback and the key man of the Quakers' power attack. Yello looms as the likely choice for the quarterback post, although Schroeder may alternate two players at this position. The halfback posts are wide open with West, Scullion, Janovec, Nocera and Pich as the leading contenders for the starting assignments.

YOUNGSTOWN TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

College Team To Start Football Season In Game Tomorrow

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 13.—Youngstown college's football team, well fortified with veterans, takes the field here tomorrow night—in its second season in a floodlight battle with Geneva college.

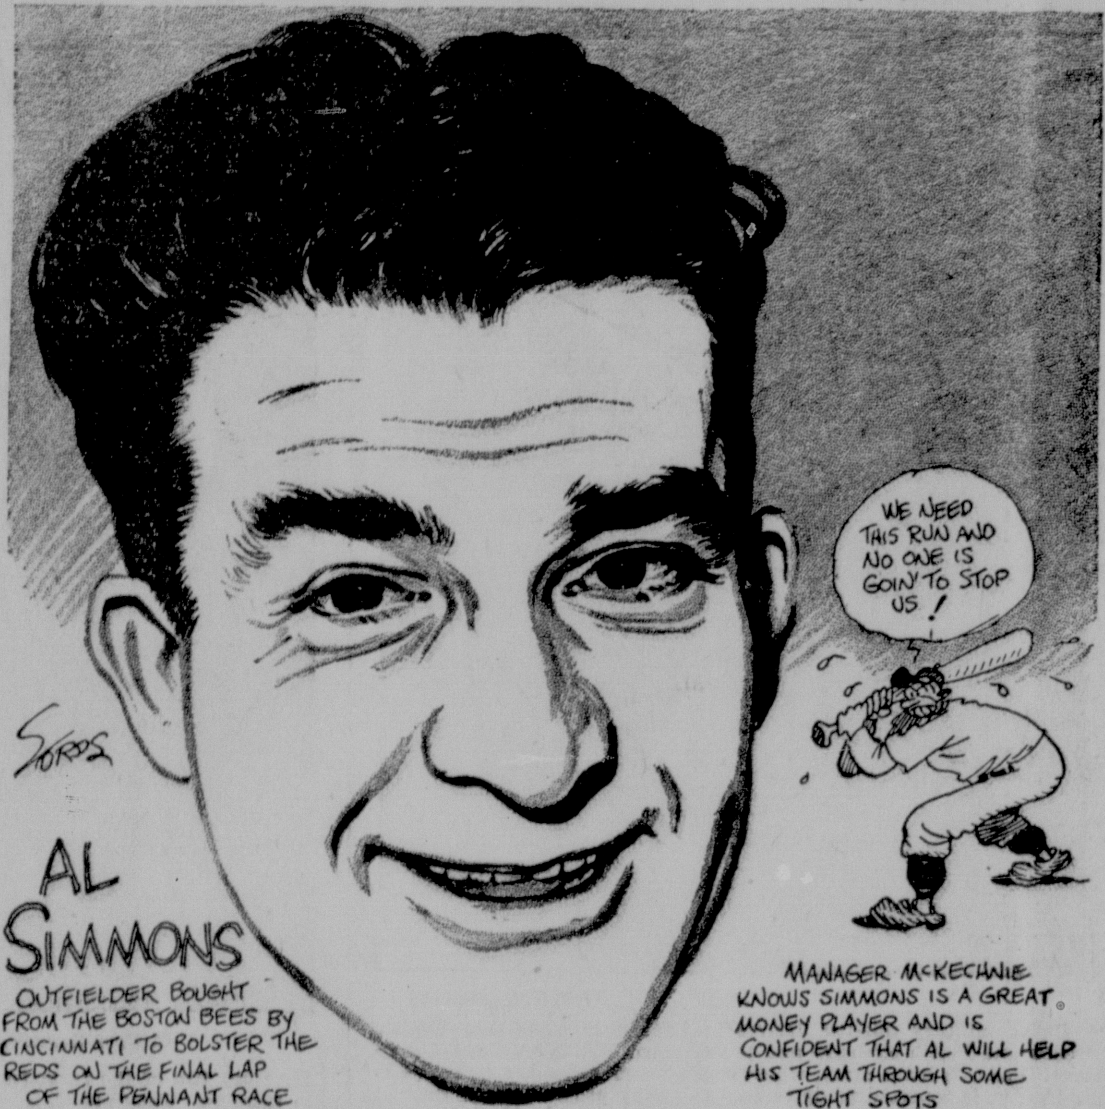

Most of the members of last year's team—comprised in the main of freshmen and sophomores—are back, boasting considerably more weight. This, together with the bolstering of reserve strength by the addition of former Youngstown district high school stars, lends credence to the belief that the Penguins won't be just a set-up team.

Coach Dike Beede has been drilling his charges daily since Aug. 25 and the squad appears to be in excellent shape. The players worked out at Camp Fitch on Lake Erie from Labor day until Tuesday, returning here then to taper off for the opener.

Veterans slated for starting positions are Jim Heber, quarterback; Dick Sontag, fullback; Mattie Perantoni, halfback; Sloko Gill, center; Bob Burns and Jack Green, ends; Carmen Julius and Walter Malys, guards.

Expected to share the ball-carrying spot light with the veterans are Frank Terlecki and John Conger, newcomers to the squad but well known in Mahoning valley scholastic circles. Terlecki is regarded as one of the best passers and kickers ever turned out at Youngstown Chaney High school, while Conger gained all-city honors at East High with scintillating open field running.

NINTH INNING BEST TO REDS

'Don't Leave Park Early' Is Moral for Fans at Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Sept. 13.—It has been said before and it is said again—don't leave the ball park until the last Red is out and the umpires have folded their tents and stolen silently into the night.

To the students of the art and science of baseball, as demonstrated and practiced on the Cincinnati diamond, the ninth innings here are the greatest of all.

As Luke Hamlin, Leo Durocher, and the rest of the Brooklyn discovered yesterday, it is frequently catastrophic to pitch shut-out ball for 3-2-3 innings if Billy Myers is the intended third out.

Luke, one of the hottest pitchers in the National league, opened the ninth with a two-run lead. He pitched a line single to Ernie Lombardi and waited for Frenchy Bordagaray to take Ernie's spot on first. Luke got Harry Craft on a pop-up. He got Walter Berger, who had a pair of singles to his credit, on three strikes—all missed murderously.

He clears a strike and a couple of balls to Billy and then Billy swung. The ball had skynooks, it just cleared the left field wall, falling almost vertically for Billy's eighth of the year.

Luke Hamlin picked something off the ground and threw it down hard. Catcher Al Todd kicked the turf bitterly as Frenchy and Billy scored to tie up the game. The Dodgers had a collective facial expression of a man who just found a fat wallet and then the owner showed up.

A score by Bill Werber then gave Bucky Walters his 24th victory of the year, 3 to 2, and his seventh over the Dodgers.

Business at the same stand with the same people today. Gene Thompson, who beat the Dodgers in his one try against them, and Hugh Casey are the likely pitchers.

VITT USES ACE HURLER TODAY

Grimes Cracks Homer To Pace Indians In Victory

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—It looked more than ever today as if the Indians had solved their second-base problem—and they only had to go 72 miles south of Cleveland to do it.

Oscar Grimes, the Minerva youngster, submitted another reference to boss Oscar Vitt yesterday in his quest for the job as he blasted a home run in the 10th inning to beat the Yankees, 4 to 3.

In addition Grimes handled nine chances faultlessly, including two sparkling pickups.

The Redskins battled the world champions again today in the 1939 finale between the two teams. Vitt instructed Bob Feller to go after his 21st victory. The Yanks planned to use Alcy Donald or Red Ruffing.

Second in importance in the extra-inning decision was the veteran Mel Harder, who limited the Yankees to nine hits and notched his 12th victory of the season.

The triumph kept the Tribe within striking distance of Boston and Chicago, and increased its fourth-place margin over Detroit to three games.

HOME RUNS AND FINE PITCHING WIN IN MAJORS

Four - Base Knocks Cash In For Leaders In Big Leagues

By SID FEDER

Way back in the good old days, the old professor once said pitching is 83 per cent of baseball, but the big league managers will tell you today there's nothing so handy as the home run to prove it.

It was a set of four-base knocks which cashed in on elegant pitching all around the tilts involving the leaders in the majors yesterday, breaking up every game and leaving this situation: (1) Cincinnati's Red's style's games in front of the National league; (2) the Yankees' American league edge trimmed to 16 games; (3) the St. Louis Cardinals still in the thick of the senior circuit fight, and (4) the Cubs with a slightly tighter grip on third place.

Open Home Stand

Out in Cincinnati, the Reds, opening a home stand, were collecting a basketful of goose eggs from "Hot Potato" Luke Hamlin and the blazing Brooklyn Dodgers. Then, with two out in the ninth and a man on base, Billy Myers parked his eighth homer of the season out of the lot to tie the score. After that, Buck McCormick's single in the tenth, sending the winning run across for a 3-2 decision and Bucky Walters' 24th pitching victory was an anti-climax.

The Cards, in St. Louis, were having a tough time with the Phillies. Johnny Mize and Ducky Medwick hit homers in the early innings, but Joe Marty came back with a two-run round-tripper in the seventh to put the Phillies in front. So Terry Moore whacked one among the paying customers with a man on base in the last of the seventh to give the Gas House Gang a 4-3 decision.

The Cubs used the most outspoken kind of homer—one with the bags loaded—and they did it early. Hank Leiber came up in the first inning and belted it. From there it was no trick at all for the Cubs to coast in with an 8-3 win over the Bees.

Uphill Fight

The American league's top tussle also followed the senior circuit's home-run suit. The Yankees had a tough uphill fight to deadlock the Cleveland Indians in the regulation nine innings. But Ossie Grimes settled the thing by leading off the tenth with his third homer of the year, and the Indians clicked, 4-3, ending the Yank's eight-game winning streak.

Since the second-place Boston Red Sox, behind Denny Galehouse's five-hit pitching, nipped the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, the Yanks' American league lead was trimmed one game. They still need four wins to clinch the flag.

The Athletics didn't hit a homer, but they collected 19 other assorted base knocks to wallop the St. Louis Browns, 9-1, behind steady seventh-inning elbowing by Buster McCrabb, making his first start in the big time. The Chicago White Sox's Lefty Lee downed the Washington Senators, 3-2, with a four-hit elbowing job, but the Senators made a successful protest as the result of a sixth-inning play, and the game was ordered replayed today.

The Pirates and Pittsburgh Pirates were rained out.

ASHLAND SQUAD AGAIN IS SMALL

Eagles Hope To Have 22 Men In Uniform By End of Week

(By Associated Press)

The small-squad bugaboo plagued Ashland college's Eagles again today as they prepared for the 1939 season with only 15 players in uniform.

The Eagles almost gave up the sport several times last season when poor turnouts and injuries depleted their squad. However, they hope to have at least 22 in uniform by the end of the week. Eight lettermen are back.

At Athens injuries already have whittled five from the Ohio university squad. Those out, all with knee injuries, are Dick Roosevelt of Cleveland, St. Johnson of Hamilton, Cameron Elliot of Cleveland, Everett Welch of Hamilton and Fred Blackhurst of East Liverpool.

Coach Don Peden is grooming Dan Risatti, Canton junior, to replace Johnny Montgomery, last year's star quarterback who was graduated.

34 At Northern

A squad of 34, including 12 letter winners, reported to Coach Harris Lamb at Ohio Northern.

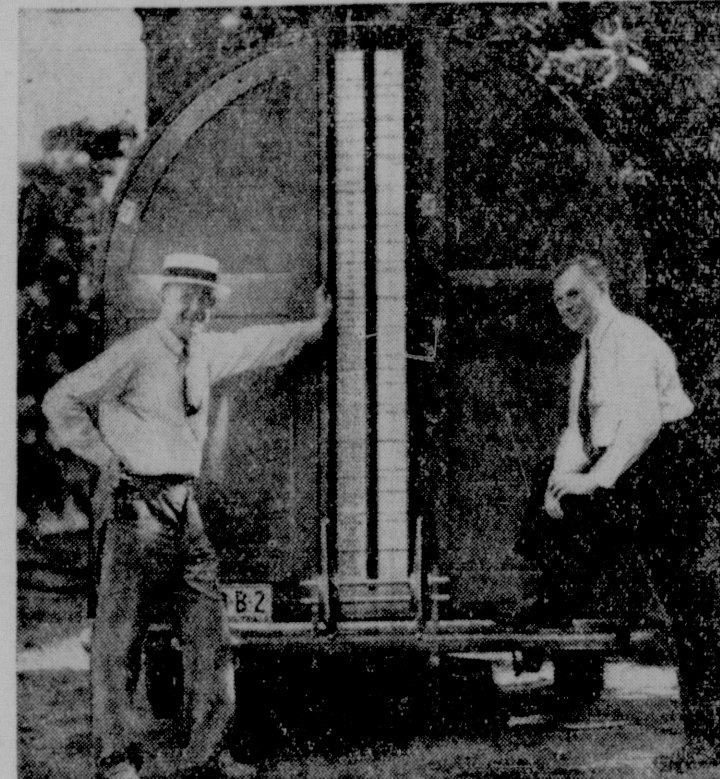

Monroe Snider of Cleveland, captain of the 1938 All-Ohio conference team, headed nine lettermen drilling under Coach Tom Rogers at Dennison university. The first game is with Transylvania at Granville Sept. 29.

Dr. Clarence Spears, Toledo university coach, said he would carry a 35 squad, meaning only four will be out. He has moved Bill Beach, second high scorer in Ohio last fall, from left half to quarterback.

The year's first scrimmage was on the program at Dayton university where 20 lettermen and 13 others are working out.

Dayton-Ohio Wesleyan Thanksgiving game had been rescheduled for Dec. 2 as a result of the change in the holiday date.

Pitching Meter Here Saturday

The recording scale of the Plain Dealer-Cleveland Indians pitching speed meter is shown in the view of the meter, closed for travel. The thermometer-like scale is illuminated by a light from inside the trailer when a ball has been thrown, the light illuminating the number which is the thrower's speed.

The pitching meter will appear in Salem from 2 until 10 p. m. Saturday in connection with the Fall Festival. Its appearance here is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

CANTON DROPS OPENING GAME

Loses First Tilt In Mid-Atlantic Playoff To Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 13.—Springfield's Indians jumped into a one-game lead over the Canton Terriers in the Mid-Atlantic league's final playoff today, all because of some fine pitching and slugging.

The second game will be played here tonight, after which the series will swing to Canton for three games, then return here—if necessary. It's a four-out-of-seven affair.

Willard Embree maintained the Indian policy of stingy pitching as the Tribe scalped the Pups 14 to 1 here last night. He allowed only four hits, two coming in the first inning when the Terriers scored their only run, and the last two in the eighth.

Canton committed six errors while the Tribe pounded two pitchers for 13 hits, including two triples and a brace of doubles.

The score:
Canton ..... 100 000 000—1 4 6
Springfield ..... 330 093 20x—1 13 3
Waite, Vosselle and Finley; Embree and Hegon.

Kentucky Softball Team Wins Laurels

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Kentucky had to split the spoils of the 1939 men's and women's national softball tournament with the Pacific coast today.

Its men's teams from Covington carried off one title last night behind the sensational pitching of 22-year-old Morb "Cyclone" Warlen. The Louisville girls, however, bowed 1 to 0 to Alameda, Calif., the defending women champions.

Errors in the last inning gave Columbia its only run. Covington won, 5 to 1.

Kansas City Loses In Playoff Opener

(By Associated Press)

Kansas City and Minneapolis rode high as the No. 1 and 2 teams, respectively, during most of the American Association's regular season, but the Shaughnessy playoffs are something else.

Third place Indianapolis humiliated the Kansas City champions last night, 3 to 0, in one playoff opener and fourth place Louisville took care of Minneapolis in the other, 8 to 2.

The clubs resume their preliminary series tonight.

Fight Results

AMATEUR FIELD FINEST ONE OF LINKS HISTORY

National Tourney Is Replete With Former Champions

By FRITZ HOWELL

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—When great golf fields are mentioned in the future, the chances are the boys will cite as the finest of them all the 64 who started match play today over North Shore's hazardous holes for the 43rd national amateur championship.

Still in there battling, after the most sizzling qualifying test in the tourney history, were a former National Open king, four national amateur winners, a quartet of national public rules and five national intercollegiate victors.

That medalist, by the way, was just one of three reasons why Irish eyes were smiling as the qualifying scores were posted. He was Tom Sheehan, captain of Notre Dame's golf team the last two years, who ripped two strikes off the all-time qualifying mark with a sensational five-under-par 139 for 36 holes. The Detroit youngster held a three-stroke lead over the field.

McCarthy Second

Three blows off the pace with a two-under-par 142 was Maurice J. McCarthy, Ohio's "great McGonigle" three-time winner of the Buckeye state's amateur laurels, former New York Metropolitan and national intercollegiate champion, and Walker cup star. A stroke back of him was a third son of old Erin, B. Patrick Abbott of Altadena, Calif., curlyhaired movie extra.

Pairings and qualifying scores of Ohio and opponents:
Dan Carmichael, Columbus (155), vs. Harold Mandley, Wethersfield, Conn. (147).

Edward Meister, Cleveland (153), vs. Bruce McCormick, Pasadena (151).

Bob Servis, Dayton (149), vs. Don Schumacher, Dallas (149).

Maurice McCarthy, Cincinnati (142), vs. Henry Kowal, Hamilton, N. Y. (153).

Johnny Fischer, Cincinnati (150), vs. W. S. Alexander, Charlotte, N. C. (153).

Appeals Court Gets Pension Fund Case

LISBON, Sept. 13.—Among 14 cases to be considered by the court of appeals, sitting here Oct. 30, is a mandamus action filed by George Curran, former county detective and East Liverpool city policeman, asking that he be allowed to participate in the police pension fund after East Liverpool.

Trustees of the pension fund are named defendants in the suit. Curran, who was honorably retired by Safety Service Director James V. Hall of East Liverpool June 3 of this year due to disability, charges that he was hit in the left eye while making an arrest in East Liverpool Nov. 29, 1934.

The injury, he claims, is of a permanent nature. He says his doctor fears total blindness in that eye eventually.

F. D. R. ASSURED ARMS SUPPORT

Senator Van Nuys Says He's for "Cash and Carry" Sale Plan

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—President Roosevelt appeared assured today of majority support within the senate foreign relations committee for some form of his proposal to permit the sale of arms to belligerent nations.

In a letter to an unnamed constituent, Senator Van Nuys (D-Calif.) announced he would support a "cash and carry" plan for arms sales, if they were properly safeguarded.

Van Nuys is one of the committee members who, by a vote of 12 to 11 at the last session of congress, delayed consideration of proposals to repeal the arms embargo provision of the neutrality act and otherwise revise that statute.

Sympathies With Democracies
His announcement today was regarded generally as assuring that the committee would place the issue before the senate at the forthcoming special session.

"My sympathies, of course, are with the democracies of Europe," Van Nuys wrote. "I anticipate that the chief point of discussion will be a cash and carry plan. I shall study all such proposals with a sympathetic interest."

"I shall not support any legislation or alliances which may result in again sending American soldiers overseas, but I will favor a cash and carry plan properly safeguarded."

While the President has not yet defined the form of proposals he will make to the special session, he said recently that he favored a plan following the general lines laid down by Secretary of State Hull's message transmitted to the last session by the chief executive.

Hull's Proposal
Briefly, Hull proposed that a section of the present law prohibiting sales of arms to warring nations be replaced with a provision permitting such nations to make purchases here provided they acquired title to the goods before they were shipped. The secretary suggested also that American ships be forbidden to enter combat zones.

Many legislators on both sides of the controversy say that repeal of the arms embargo would benefit England and France in their war with Germany because, although it legally would open American arms markets to all the belligerents, Britain would be able to prevent shipments from reaching her enemy.

Opponents of repeal, among them Republican Senators Borah of Idaho and Vandenberg of Michigan, contend that it would constitute taking sides in the war and ultimately lead this country into the conflict.

Freight shipments and increased demands for coal have boosted railroad operations.

Recall 600 Men

The New York Central lines recalled 600 men to its Collinwood shops and Chief Clerk J. G. Caldwell of Columbus said 200 had been added to the railroad's operating personnel since the end of the Appalachian bituminous coal field shutdown.

All furloughed Baltimore and Ohio Railroad employees have been recalled in the Columbus area where the Pennsylvania railroad shops listed a payroll of 2,200, slightly above normal for the season, and were taking on additional employees.

O. W. Wiswell, executive secretary of the Ohio Coal Conference, Inc., said the freight boom was caused by shortage of reserve coal at industrial plants, and possibly by a demand for fuel to export.

The Ohio employment service, operated by the bureau of unemployment compensation, said railroad car loaders were in great demand in Columbus and that factory obs for unskilled laborers had expanded 25 per cent in recent weeks. The seasonal demand for farm labor also was being maintained.

Rogers Man Is Held In Robbery Series

LISBON, Sept. 13.—Robert Dutcher, 28, of Rogers, was taken into custody by Sheriff Harry L. Gosney last night in connection with burglaries last Sunday at Rogers village.

According to the sheriff, the prisoner is reported to have confessed several of the robberies when questioned at the county jail. Some of the loot, principally candy, tobacco and canned goods taken at Lee Paul's service station, was reported recovered.

Among the establishments entered Sunday was the Rogers post-office where $40 in cash and bonds were stolen.

Later today Postal Inspector J. Ivey of Akron obtained a confession from Dutcher, admitting he broke into the postoffice. Filing of formal charges against the defendant has not been done.
